How we met:

Work/Industry environment.

The proposal:

I proposed on my birthday, January 21, 2018. Lesli is super hard to surprise so I knew I had to catch her on a day she would least expect it. I definitely wanted both of our families present and had to find a day that we would all be together without her suspecting anything. It started with her first hunt on the King Ranch (birthday gift to myself) and also a wonderful memory of harvesting on such a special occasion. We rushed back to our family ranch for my birthday dinner/party. Little did Lesli know that my birthday would turn into our engagement party. EVERYONE in attendance knew the plan except my future bride. Best birthday EVER!

Favorite detail:

Bride: What made our wedding unique was the family venue that we opened just for the first time on our wedding day, the food: we served different types of food every 2 hours, the music, but most importantly all the wonderful people that were there that helped one way or another and were there because they loved us. Oh and the tequila bottles on each table!!! Groom: Getting married on our family ranch venue & providing our own services to our special day.

Favorite moment:

Bride: My favorite moment was the first dance as a married couple. It was beyond special for me to finally be at that point in my life dancing the first song with the man of my life. Groom: My favorite moment was our first dance and the reason I say that is because the lyrics to our first dance were something I had longed for with my wife and for it to finally become a reality was so special.

Biggest challenge:

Bride: The biggest challenge was in the process, trying to keep the guess count low. We had 450 people on the last guest count. It didn't go so well but we wouldn't change that final guest list for the world! Groom: The biggest challenge was finding a wedding planner that could actually provide us with visual examples of their work, and what we were looking for.

Funniest moment:

Bride: Funniest/embarrassing moment was definitely Tito removing the garter in front of my dad. I don't think my dad even watched. My sisters said he turned away and started talking to his friends, lol. Groom: The most embarrassing moment was when our horse that was pulling the carriage decided to relieve himself while guests were taking photos with him.

One piece of advice:

Bride: Don't stress out during the planning process, not even the day of the wedding. At the end of the day, not worrying about small things lets you ENJOY the purpose of this day.

Groom: Stay calm, God Is Good all the time! And all the time God is good.

Why you got married:

Bride: I got married because I'm in love with Tito and who he is as a person. Marriage to me is a decision to honor God by honoring the one he entrusted me with. Groom: I got married because my favorite child of God stole my heart. To me marriage means being selfless & providing everything my wife needs spiritually.

How to make your spouse happy:

Bride: Making him coffee as soon as he's ready to start his day makes him happy! Doing the bed as well, but most of all loving him and respecting him does the job! Groom: Serving her spiritually first and also by communicating and compromising. We can always come to agreements when we keep God first.

What you look forward to most:

Bride: Getting to know each other even more as the days, months, and years go by. Also having a family to raise in our beautiful home one day. Groom: Growing with each other in faith and love. Continuing to be there for one another through all of life's obstacles. I really look forward to having the love of my life in the toughest of times. We are blessed to have such a great support system in each other.

One piece of advice:

Bride: Explore all your options when it comes to decorations, cakes, wedding planners, food, entertainment and venues! Don't settle for something you like, LOVE IT! Also remember this day is special for the BOTH of you. Both of you make the decisions and compromise. Last but not least, keep God in the center of your relationship.

Groom: Definitely make sure you LOVE all your vendors. There are plenty out there. Also, don't be scared to look for vendors throughout South Texas, they are all used to traveling. You will definitely find your perfect vendor that fits your budget. Last... ENJOY the planning and have fun with it... it truly is worth a lifetime. And never forget... God is Good ALL THE TIME!
