How we met:

We met through mutual friends on a summer night in 2010.

The proposal:

Tyler surprised me with tickets to see The Nutcracker ballet on the morning of December 10, 2017. It's my favorite ballet and I hadn't seen it live in 15 years. After the show, he took me to my favorite restaurant by the water for dinner. It was a gorgeous night with a full moon and extra bright stars. I knew he was up to something because he looked so nervous the entire time we were at dinner. Tyler suggested we take a walk by the water after we ate and since it was a chilly night he put his coat around my shoulders. Little did I know the ring was in his coat pocket the whole time! I saw him reach for something in the pocket and when I turned around he was on one knee. I immediately felt tears and an overwhelming rush of love and happiness. I said yes so many times!

Favorite detail:

Bride: Something very special about our wedding is that we chose February 9th as our wedding date because that was my parent's 28th wedding anniversary. It meant the world to me that we were able to share that day with them. My favorite detail of our wedding was my dress. It was the one thing I spent the most time planning and perfecting because I wanted to make sure it was unique and timeless. Groom: The location of our wedding was my favorite detail. The venue did an amazing job of taking care of us and making sure everything was perfect. Alexis at Mansion Royal guided us through the whole process and made it so much easier for us. We couldn't have done it without him.

Favorite moment:

Bride: I was sitting at our beautiful bride and groom table and looking around at all of our family and friends dancing and having so much fun, and that was the moment when I thought "wow, all of the stress from planning this wedding was so worth it." It was so surreal to see our families bonding and coming together for the first time to celebrate such an important moment in our lives with us. Everyone looked so happy, which made my heart so happy and I just wanted to store that memory forever. Groom: I have a very close family so seeing everyone together and celebrating was very special.

Biggest challenge:

Bride: Staying in our budget was probably the biggest challenge we had. We bought our first home in August, so planning a wedding and buying a house was a huge financial commitment. We are so blessed to have such amazing families who helped take the weight off our shoulders and make this day possible. We are eternally grateful to them. Groom: When we started planning this wedding we weren't expecting to take on buying our first home as well, so that definitely took a toll on our budget. But in the end, it all worked out, thanks to our amazing families who helped out. We are so grateful for them.

One piece of advice:

Bride: When the day finally arrives it will fly by, so live in the moment and don't stress the little things that don't go as planned. In the end everything will work out and you will be married to your soulmate. Groom: Figure out your budget when you start planning and stick to it. It will be hard but it's the best way to avoid any last minute stress.

Why you got married:

Bride: I knew Tyler was the one when I got to know him. He always treated me with respect and gave me the love I deserve. He supports my dreams and encourages me every day to be the best version of myself. Marriage is about sacrifices and commitment and I know that we can get through anything with the love we share. Groom: I asked Daisy to marry me because I always knew she was the one. I jokingly asked her to marry me a few days after we started talking because I couldn't believe how fast we clicked. She's my best friend.

How to make your spouse happy:

Bride: By being supportive and loving. Tyler is a simple man and I love that so much about him. Groom: Daisy is happy as long as I help her keep our house clean and don't get mad when I come home to a hundred boxes on our porch from her online shopping.

What you look forward to most:

Bride: I'm looking forward to all of our future adventures, The spontaneous trips to come, and mostly I can't wait to start our family. I know that I'm going to fall in love with Tyler all over again watching him be a dad. Groom: Finally being able to start our lives together. We dated for 7 years before we got married and I always knew I wanted to spend the rest of my life with her.
